MUSICAL.

The Musical History club will give its sixth musicale next Friday evening, in the Congregational church. It will be an amateur evening, and one of the younger pupils of each teacher in the city will play. Former programs have been the work of professionals, and this concert has been arranged to demonstrate the work in music being done by the younger people.

MISS ALAND ENTERTAINS.

Miss Emily Aland entertained a few of her girl friends at her home 1315 Washington avenue, Thursday afternoon, from four until eight. Pitt was the afternoon's diversion, and the head prize was won by Miss Hazel Royle, while Miss Edith Maw received the booty. A dainty supper was served, after which the guests dispersed.

Those present were Misses Zella Cowan, Crystal Cowan, Louise Pierce, Hazel Royle, Edith Maw, Edythe Read, Marie Sanford and Emer Sanford.

BINGHAM-HODGSON.

A marriage of interest to a large circle of friends is that of Miss Mary Elmore Bingham, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Bingham, to Fred W. Hodgson, which occurred Tuesday noon in Salt Lake temple, President Winder officiating.

The young couple left at 8:30 o'clock the same evening on the Los Angeles Limited for San Diego, where they will make their home for two or three years. Mr. Hodgson has accepted a position with W. F. Sheppard, a prominent architect of San Diego.

CARD PARTY.

Mrs. C. F. Osgood was hostess on Friday at one of the most artistically arranged afternoon affairs of the season. The rooms were beautiful in the different shades of wistaria. In the dining room and hall masses of lilacs were in evidence, while the drawing room and library iris was used. The chandeliers were festooned with the prevailing colors, and the ensemble was an unusually brilliant one. The color idea was carried out in the refreshments in many pretty little details.

Violin music was furnished by Walter Zeimer and sister during the afternoon. The hostess was assisted by Miss Eva Leek and Miss Eulalie Dale. In a vegetable guessing game, the prize was won by Mrs. Ross Guthrie, and at five o'clock the guests were won by Mrs. Fred M. Nye and Mrs. Joseph Grant of Salt Lake City.

BANQUET AND DANCE.

A banquet and dance was given Wednesday night at the Hermitage, in Ogden canyon, by the younger men of the local lodge of Elks, to the ladies who participated in the amateur theatrical performance recently held at the Grand Theater in this city.

The merry party, consisting of thirty-two young people and three chaperones, gathered at the club rooms at eight o'clock and were carried to the canyon resort in the large sight-seeing automobiles that are used during the season to transport visitors to Ogden's summer resort.

There was dancing until 11 p. m., when the banquet was served in the large dining room of the hostelry, after which the party returned to the city.

The members of the party follows: Chaperones: Mrs. C. A. Smurthwaite, Mrs. C. M. Clay, Mrs. John Lynch; Misses Constable, Smurthwaite, Jessie Lewis, Minnie Brown, Bessie Blair, Louise Bartlett, Arta

Simpson, Lizzie Watkins, Enlah Wastener, Josephine Farr, Eva Dalton, Nellie Bluth, Bertha Gordon, Amy Clay, Myrtle Jones, Bertha Jarvis, Miss Chapman, Messrs. F. A. Burt, O. F. Meekes, C. O. DeWolf, E. O. Peterson, H. P. Anderson, Harry Chapman, G. E. Stevens, W. D. W. Zeller, L. J. Clark, L. C. Kimball, H. Rosenbluth, Gus Sander, Mr. Whitlock, J. C. Carver, George Wall, Tom McKinstry.

CHARITY BRIDGE WHIST.

Thursday night was ladies' night at the Weber club and the members of the Martha society entertained one hundred fifty guests at bridge whist, after which refreshments were served. The affair was a brilliant one and was arranged for the purpose of securing funds to aid the women and children of the poorer class, and the committee in charge state that their best hopes were realized in the ticket sales. Prizes were won by Mrs. Henley and Alec Patterson.

Those who entertained small parties included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nye, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Runyan, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Woodruff, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Condon, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. O'Connell, Mayor and Mrs. A. L. Brewer, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Hibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Parley Wright, Jimmy Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Browning, "fr" and Mrs. Frank M. Driggs, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Misses Ivy Cleghorn and Charlotte Wetzel, members of the Weber Academy faculty, were the inspiration of a delightful surprise party given by Mrs. Carlensson, Monday night, at her home, 2565 Monroe avenue. The home was gaily decorated in purple and white, the Weber academy colors. The archway between the two parlors was draped with the Weber Academy flag, and the walls were adorned with pennants. Crepe paper streamers in the prevailing colors were festooned from the corners of the rooms, to the chandeliers, and quantities of purple lilacs were used throughout the house, and on the tables. The refreshments were dainty in every detail and harmonized with the color scheme. The hostess was assisted in the dining room by Berle Anderson and Miss Leone Engstrom, who also served punch. In a unique peanut game, prizes were won by Miss Cleghorn and Ed. Peterson.

Those present to greet the honor guests were Misses Marion Belpap, Eva Farr, Zina Larkin, Blanche Greenwell, Minnie Brown, Florence Carlensson, Leone Engstrom, Messrs. Henry Anderson, Guy Clark, Alma Larkin, Richard West, Moroni Olsen, Ed. Peterson, G. L. Spangenberg, Alma Lindsay, Bryant Jacobs.

FEDERAL OFFICIAL CIRCLES AGITATED

San Francisco, May 22.—Where the naval aides appointed to meet Admiral Uriu guilty of smuggling the famous Japanese sea-fighter, the baroness, his wife, their baggage and their valet into this country. This is the momentous question which has been agitating federal official circles ever since Captain Edward W. Eberle, commandant of the Yerba Buena training station, in his eagerness to welcome the distinguished visitors on behalf of the army and navy took them from the Nippon Maru yesterday to meet the visitors, and at the same time, as is his custom when a liner appears in port, Chief Boarding Officer Charles Stephens, the personal representative of Collector of the Port Frederick Stratton, who, in the present case, also claimed to be the personal representative of the President of the United States. Now Stratton claims that the rules of the United States treasury department have been violated by Eberle, and that the latter has laid himself liable to a fine of $2,000, $1,000 each for landing the noted admiral and his charming wife before the formalities of the custom service had been complied with.

Early yesterday morning, the navy officials sailed forth in the tug Vigilant to meet the visitors, and at the same time, as is his custom when a liner appears in port, Chief Boarding Officer Stephens started out in the revenue tug Golden Gate. But unlike ordinary trips, he went armed with instructions to pass the admiral and his party into this port free of duty and the petty annoyances which less distinguished travelers must endure. The navy tug proved the faster, however, and when Stephens arrived Captain Eberle had made off with Admiral Uriu, his wife and his baggage without even a "by your leave" to the representative of another arm of the government which was seeking to do honor to the famous visitor.

There was nothing for the official representative of the President to do but to report to his superior, the collector of the port, and nothing for the latter to do but report to Washington. Both did so and the outcome is awaited with interest.

ARMY OFFICERS ENTERTAIN FAKE

New York, May 22.—Unable to find the name of Major A. C. B. Burtis-McGreal in the British army register, officers of the United States army stationed at Governor's Island, believe today that they have been paying high honors to an umbrella salesman.

Several days ago, a tall, distinguished-looking man, with a monocle and a heavy British accent, presented himself at the headquarters of the Department of the East on Governor's Island and asked for the officer of the day, Lieutenant Janey, of the Twelfth Infantry. The stranger's card, besides his name, carried the legend that he was commander of the Seventh Dragoons of the British army, stationed at Canterbury. He said he was stopping at the Hotel Knickerbocker with his secretary and a chauffeur and had a high-power car with him. He also said he was accompanied by a commander, Major Banks of the Royal Navy, who was inspecting the Brooklyn navy yard.

"Major Burtis-McGreal" was warmly received by the army officers and for several days was extensively entertained. Major John S. Mallory of the Twelfth, and Captain Halstead Dorn, who is General Wood's aide, gave him a semi-annual dinner, and Captain E. D. Smith kept him overnight at his house.

Major Burtis-McGreal was at Governor's Island daily, and among the many officers he took a special fancy to Lieutenant Dewey. The lieutenant kept him over night several times, but yesterday morning when the "major" appeared at the headquarters after having apparently a strenuous night, the lieutenant put him to bed again and called up the Hotel Knickerbocker to request that the "major's" automobile and chauffeur be sent down to him. Instead, the hotel sent its house detective and demanded pay of a fifty-two-dollar board bill.

While the stranger induced a young woman friend to advance the money for him, a search of his one piece of baggage at the hotel revealed his connection with an umbrella house at Niagara Falls. He had no secretary, no automobile, no chauffeur so far as the officers could discover, and "Commander Major Banks" was not known.

Bright Boy!

"James, my son, take this letter to the post office and pay the postage for it." After a little while the boy James returns highly elated, and says: "Father, I send a lot of men putting letters in a little place, and when no one was looking, I slipped yours in for nothing!"

"New Thought"

on business. Dedicated to 10 der fingers. Give to the work the best you know. There will then no noxious deed. From your manly efforts grow. But a harvest of wholesome seed. Altruism means doing things "on honor." No one can afford to do things any other way. It's the best way, the permanent way. One of the greatest men of the age recently said: "The underlying essential elements of success in business affairs is to follow the established laws of high class dealings. Don't even think of temporary or sharp advantages. There can be no permanent success without fair dealing." In our faltering way we are trying to live up to this ideal. We seek from honorable firms and sell them to you at a legitimate profit. Every firm is in business for that. Goods have to be sold at an average profit, else how could a living be made? Every woman wants to be clothed in raiment suitable to her station and financial standing. It's our aim to help you every day in every way. Come Monday. Let's make a good start for a good week altogether.

The Paine & Hurst
FINE GOODS STORE

Everything for women. Strong "Henry George" cigars are for men. The Columbia Club (big stick) kind for the "sex." Personally, we like the mild flavor, the Tangwhaup of La Garnita with the beautiful picture of the lady on box, not the "man on the box."

With the announcement of the appointment of Mr. W. W. Rockhill to the ambassadorship of Russia and Mr. Oscar P. Straus to the ambassadorship to Turkey, much interest centers in the wives who represent the social head of the American colony in these two places. Mrs. Rockhill has been with her husband in China during the past few years and has won continual praise from the Chinese and with whom she has come in contact, and no doubt the court of St. Petersburg will find in her the same qualities to admire.

Mrs. Straus has been in Turkey before and knows the country officially. At this time of strife and turmoil her position will be the most unusual and will require the utmost diplomacy.

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD

It is one thing to have money, but it is another thing to retain it. Many young men who are earning good salaries could save much more money if they would be economical in their expenditures. To have and to hold public confidence a man should not cease his efforts to save. An account with the Commercial National Bank will be of such great help to you that you will hold it as one of your strongest assets and constantly endeavor to increase your funds.
